CHINA NEW YEAR.

China New Year, the greatest of the national holidays of the Chinese people, with all its noises and merriment, its music and other delights to the celestial is once more with us. As everyone knows, this festival, like our Easter, is a movable feast, and, as a matter of fact "New Year" falls on the first new moon after the sun enters Aquarius, which makes it come not before January 21st and not later than February 19th. The Chinese year, being lunar, contains fewer days than our solar year, and to correct this discrepancy seven times in every nineteen years, an intercalary month is inserted, and so this difference is adjusted.

Every cursory reader of Chinese history is aware that Chinese New Year was not always celebrated at the same time as at present. The founders of the old dynasties, if one may believe the histories of those times, used to mark the commencement of their reigns by changing the date of the new year. It would not, perhaps, interest our readers to extend our remarks on this point, and it will be sufficient to remark that the oldest dynasty of which we have any knowledge, began the year in our February; that the succeeding one selected January, whilst the famous Chau dynasty, under which Confucius flourished, commenced at the winter solstice in December. In this way each conqueror marked his exaltation to the throne in a very emphatic manner. But whilst few of our readers will be attracted by these antiquarian questions, all must be interested in the important festival as we see it to-day. The great activity among the Chinese at this season of the year, show the innate vigour of their race, and their ceremonies and customs will serve as an index to their thoughts and ideas. It is a time of intense energy and excitement. Yet even here their ingrained habits are not forgotten. Most people know that in a Chinese city it is the rule for vendors of the same commodity to congregate together in the same street. Hence all the shops of one street will sell shoes, of another scrolls, and so on. In passing alone Bonham Street, Jervois Street and other thoroughfares in that locality, one sees the same peculiarity obtains, even in their temporary stalls, and it will be observed that most of the things offered for sale on these occasions, are luxuries for the house or for the palate. To see this annual sale in full swing, however, one should visit the eighteenth street in Canton, which on ordinary occasions is devoted to the sale of curios and foreign goods. The entire street—one of the finest of Canton—is literally jammed with people, and one can only move with the moving mass, as a rock embedded in a glacier, must move with the ice. Much business is done in more than the recognised way. This, too, is the great harvest of pickpockets. Visitors have their gold-rimmed spectacles snatched from their faces, and on returning home will find the pockets of their ulster cut open and the contents extracted. On New Year's eve occasionally, an article of value may be secured at a reasonable price, and in Hongkong this has become a recognised fact as witness the bartering at the fair. To stand by the side of one of those typical stalls is a study in itself and affords a capital insight into the cuteness of the Oriental as he offers his goods to the bargain hunter. Usually, however, like the "Cheap Jacks" at home, the sellers, though selling at a ruinous price, are careful to guard their own interests, and are quite as contented with their transactions, as vendors, as the enthusiastic foreigners are as purchasers. But one of the most striking results of the advent of the New Year is the complete cessation, on the part of all persons, from every kind of work, and worry. Perhaps there is no country in the world where people work so many hours as in China without a break, and accept the situation so complacently. True, some of the workers cease work at times, but no general rest is proclaimed. In the midst of a piece of music, individual players will stop for breath for a moment, whilst the band as a whole plays on, so in China some stop now and then, but the work never stops. This general and absolute cessation from all kind of work appeals to the imagination. In the great walled cities, and in the country villages; on the land and on the sea, custom and desire command everybody to pull up. This deep repose is in striking contrast to the intense restlessness and tremendous storm of noise which obtain everywhere on the previous night. It is, too, a time of universal worship. In Hongkong we really see but little of this. Nevertheless, the fact remains. It is incumbent on all to worship their ancestors, either in the home or in the shop. No one cares to omit this duty. As is well known the great mandarins of the provincial cities gather in the most conspicuous Confucian temple to worship the tablet of the Emperor. In Canton many Europeans have been present at this imposing ceremony. And it is striking. Under the stars of heaven, just as the first dawn of light appears in the east, at a given sound for the master of ceremonies, all the mandarins fall on their face, and kao-tao. The tutelary god of the city—Shing Wong—comes in for a large share of honour on New Year's day. Thousands throng his temple—men and women—and those who are responsible for the finances of the place reap a rich harvest. Everyone is bent on enjoying the passing hour, and let us hope the year on which they are now entering will be more prosperous than that which has just passed. This, at least, is the heartiest wish we extend to all our Chinese readers.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

TO-MORROW being China New Year's Day the Hongkong Telegraph will not be published.

There is nothing photographic that you can not get at Le Munyon's. See his new mailing envelope.—Advt.

CORRESPONDENCE from the Hongkong Chamber of Commerce relating to the following subjects reached us too late for publication in this evening's issue:—Storm Warning, Quarantine, Dating and signing of Bills of Lading, Parcels Post, Stowaways, Cable Rates, &c.

THE match fixed for Saturday last, 24th inst., between R.G.A. 78th Co. and V.R.C. F. C. which was not played owing to the 78th Co. having at the last moment been called upon to attend the funeral of a comrade, has been fixed for Saturday, 7th proximo; the Club Ground not being available this Saturday on account of a Rugby fixture.

I have just received from the factory the very latest hand cameras. It is the Century. To see one is to possess one. At Le Munyon's.—Advt.

IN VIEW of the prevalence of piracy on the West River and on the Delta, we are informed that the Chinese Government has commissioned the three Rende gunboats, viz., Kwong Kum, Kwong Yuh, and Kwong Yuen to patrol the waterways. Each of these vessels is to be commanded by European officers, with a picked crew of about fifty to sixty men. We believe that Captain T. Austin, late of the Kwong Chow, has been appointed in command of one of these vessels.

Ten thousand dollars' worth of photo-supplies just received on last Empress and Nippon Miru of every description. At Le Munyon's.—Advt.

ON Saturday, 31st instant, at 5 p.m. the members of the Craigengower Club will be "at home" to their friends. A cricket match will take place between members of the Club and the Hongkong Volunteer Coronation Contingent, who are also members of the Club. In the afternoon, a presentation of prizes will be given to the successful batsmen and bowlers for the past year. By kind permission of the officers, the band of the 33rd Burma Infantry will play selections during the afternoon.

Le Munyon can develop and print your films quicker, cleaner, and more scientifically than any one in Hongkong. Ask the people about him, and see if it is not so.—Advt.

A PRIVATE telegram to hand in Penang gives the news of the Sultan of Aceh giving voluntarily himself up to the Dutch authorities. This piece of information is of no mean importance, inasmuch as it signifies that the long protracted "Acheen rebellion" is drawing near to a termination, if ever a termination can be arrived at with brigands and outlaws still pestering the outlying districts. It is certainly a step nearer to peace when the leader of the guerrilla fighting that has been going on for an interminable length of time surrenders of his own accord to his enemies. The Sultan is ascertained that he would be well received by the Governor of Acheen, and then, finding that his skin was safe, he went and delivered himself up to the Dutch. He is now located in the house of one of the principal Dutch military officers. He threw up the sponge at Segli, and a Dutch war vessel was sent to convey him to Kota Radja. When the present Sultan's father died, the son set up as pretender to the throne. He was never recognised, and carried on desultory fighting against the Dutch. Now that he has been silenced, the hands of the authorities are much strengthened, and numbers of the lesser chiefs among the rebels will probably lay down their arms. The event constitutes one of the final stages of the war, and the chief concern of the Dutch will be touching the position in which they will place the would-be Sultan.—Phonograph

REBELLIOUS MOVEMENT IN CANTON.

ARRESTS IN HONGKONG.

PRISONERS CHARGED AT THE MAGISTRACY.

Last night when we published the information that in consequence of certain arrests that have been effected, plans of a general rising at Canton have been discovered, we were in full possession of the facts relating to the arrest of natives at No. 20 D'Aguiar Street. For very good reasons we refrained from publishing the full details, which we do now, lest the maturing of the plan for the effectual capture of those who will now stand their trial before a British tribunal for equipping an expedition against a friendly nation in our shores might be frustrated. Now that the additional arrests have been made and that the plans of the authorities appear to have been completed so far as Hongkong is concerned, and that the movement to originate from Hongkong has apparently been nipped in the bud, we place before our readers, without reserve, the following information:—

On the 26th instant, "in consequence of information received," European and Chinese detectives proceeded to No. 20 D'Aguiar Street, used as a general meeting house or club for a certain section of the Chinese community, and there effected certain arrests, and subsequently, in consequence of certain other information, added to the number of persons under arrest. These were detained and this morning before Mr. F. A. Hazeland were placed in the dock at the Magistracy to answer a serious charge. The names, addresses and occupations of the prisoners appeared on the charge sheet as follows:—

(1) Fung Sai Shun, 52, shopkeeper D'Aguiar St., of Kwai Sin; (2) Chan Kam Yan, 39, no occupation, No. 20 D'Aguiar St., of San On; (3) Ho Sing, 2, cook, unemployed, No. 20 D'Aguiar St., of San On; (4) Tong H. P., 20, carpenter, 20 D'Aguiar St., of Shun Tak; (5) Wong Shiu Tong, 29, accountant, No. 107 Queen's Road East, of San On; (6) Lui Si, 42, alias Lui Hon Sang, shopkeeper, No. 7 Winklok Street, of Kwai Sin; (7) Leung Ying Kin, 40, chopmaker, Upper Lascar Row, of Ko In; (8) Kwong Tsung Wan, 31, hatter, No. 4 Tung Wa Lane, of Nam Hoi; (9) Leung On L., 35, tailor, 40 D'Aguiar St., of Kwai Sin; and (10) Ho Ming, 35, stone merchant, Macao, of Kwai Sin. They were charged as follows:—That they, the said (here follow the names), within the limits of His Majesty's dominions, and after the coming into operation therein of the Foreign Enlistment Act, 1870, and without the licence of His Majesty, were unlawfully engaging in the fitting out of a military expedition to proceed against the dominions of a certain friendly state, to wit, the Empire of China, on the 26th day of January, 1903, at Victoria, in this Colony. II. That they the said (names) within the limits of His Majesty's dominions, and after the coming into operation therein of the Foreign Enlistment Act, 1870, and without the licence of His Majesty were unlawfully engaged in the preparation of a military expedition to proceed against a certain friendly state, to wit, the Empire of China, on the 26th day of January, 1903, at Victoria in this Colony.

Seven prisoners were charged before Mr. F. A. Hazeland this morning, and solicitors employed in the defence of individual prisoners in the case were: Messrs. J. Hastings, of Messrs. Deacon and Hastings, J. S. Harston, of Messrs. Ewins and Haslam, and H. J. Gedge, of Messrs. Johnson, Stokes, and Master; the other three prisoners had been charged previously. The affair had been kept very quiet, as only the usual number of Chinese coolies was present in court.

Mr. Hastings, who had evidently previously defended prisoners in connection with the case, asked for a reduction of bail.

Mr. Hazeland said that the case was without a precedent. He thought the bail was high, and said if Mr. Hastings could come to an arrangement with Mr. Badley, Captain Superintendent of Police, he would be pleased to consider it.

Mr. Hazeland afterwards asked if Mr. Hastings' clients could put up $5,000 each, and it was agreed to fix the bail in that sum. Mr. Hazeland continued to say that he understood three of the men were only recruited. He would remand the case for a week, and had not decided whether he would take all the prisoners together.

After Mr. Gedge had obtained for his clients the same terms of bail, the charge was read to the seven prisoners in Cantonese and Hakka.

Mr. Hazeland said he would fix the date of adjournment to 3rd February at 10 o'clock. The case would not come on on that day, but by that time he would be able to fix the date definitely.

Mr. Gedge asked if it would be permissible to visit the prisoners in the Government gaol.

Mr. Hazeland said he had no power to give permission, but he understood there would be no objection. He said that it would be necessary to make formal application for bail.

Mr. Harston said he was ready to do so at once.

From outside reports we hear that some 300 recruits were raised in Hongkong, that several thousand suits of uniform have been manufactured in the West River, and that a quantity of arms, ammunition, and provisions, and general food supplies have been exported from Hongkong to the neighbourhood of Canton. It is said that the plan of action was arranged to take place to-night when the inhabitants of Canton would be proceeding in carrom, to the pagodas and other places of worship. The mandarins and high officials were to be waylaid and killed, fires were to be started in various parts of the City, and the treasury sacked. Another report, and one which appears to be the more probable, is that the intention of the prisoners' under arrest in Hongkong, was to proceed to Canton this evening, and upon arriving there in the morning as soon as the gates were open, they would be joined by others, rush the yamen gates, overpower the guards and take the treasury.

Later.
We understand that the British gunboats Driftmark and Morchen, and the German gunboat Tiger are already at Canton. Leave at the British Consulate, Canton has been stopped during the China New Year. It is reported that a certain Col. Chun is marching on a city near Canton. The sale of ammunition and firearms has been prohibited in the Colony. Instructions to that effect were given to the various gunsmiths last evening.

TALK TOPICS.

The clerk of the weather is as fickle an individual as most of his genus. The unpropitious weather of the past few days may be to an ideal manner with the early dawn of today, and, of course, with the improvement in our weather conditions, we have no cause for grumbling, but rather for satisfaction, in that the turn-out might be expected to be larger, and greater enthusiasm will, in consequence, be instilled into the little gathering of "sports" on the Happy Valley. The welcome appearance of His Excellency Sir Henry Blake, G.C.M.G., for the first time soon after seven this morning goes to show, if indeed evidence is wanting, that our Governor esteems as much interest in our sporting affairs as he is wont to do in the material happiness and commercial prosperity of the people of the island. Sir Henry left the course in company with our veteran Steward, Sir Paul Chater.

Within a fortnight from to-day all the preparations, careful training and speculations will have been over, and we shall settle down to realise the actual results of the many events which later training appears to show there are many eager efforts made to carry off. The agreeable spirit of determination on the part of all owners to bring the condition of their China griffins to that as "fit as a fiddle," must be noted, and at this stage it is almost impossible to tell, with any degree of safety, amongst what stables honour will be divided for China griffin races. In Flickamaro, however, Mr. Tremearne has the pony that, so far, has made the best time. He did the mile and a half to-day in the following time: 38, 1.14, 1.55, 2.25, 3.01, 3.36. Barring eventualities he should secure the judge's verdict for the German Cup. Following close upon his heels are Mr. G. H. Potts's Jigoku, Mr. Hart Buck's Silver Fox, and Mr. J. H. Lewis's Muscatel. They are all sure to face the starter to wrest the much-coveted trophy—the gift of our German friends. They are hot favourites for the two popular races—the German Cup and Valley Stakes. Jigoku accomplished 1 mile in 33, 1.06.

The inner was the faster going course this morning, the outside course being rather slippery, and galloping a good deal of which was witnessed, was captured mostly to this track. The following were the performances:—

CHINA PONIES.
Pandur, 12 miles, 35, 1.10, 1.44, 2.18, 2.51.
Algeria, 12 miles, 35, 1.10, 1.48, 2.22, 2.54.

Manhattan, 12 miles, 36, 1.15, 1.53, 2.37, 3.08, 3.41.
Martinez, 1 mile, joined.
Misfit, 1 mile, 36, 1.15, 1.54, 2.31.
Snowdrift, 1 mile, 34, 1.09, 1.45, 2.19.
Toddy, 12 miles, 39, 1.15, 1.55, 2.30, 3.06.

NEWS FROM CANTON.

Writing from Canton yesterday our correspondent says:—

As the New Year draws near rumours multiply. There is at present more real uneasiness on the part of many, principally Chinese, than at any time during the year. For two or three nights the city gates, which were presumably shut, but which were really open, have been shut tight again. The soldiers say that trouble is expected from the "reformers." Hongkong Chinese seem to think trouble is at hand for several have written to friends in Canton urging them to move to Hongkong. I still feel that nothing serious will take place. At the same time one cannot ignore the fact that the chief subject of conversation among the Chinese is the capture of the city by the "reformers." It is strange how these people speak of the anticipated trouble. Feldom do they say "rebellion." It is usually "there will be a theatre," "Yau Hi Tai!"

Another correspondent at Canton writes that, about seven o'clock last night, the city guards Kwei Tuck Moon arrested five men in a house close by. These men were seized on receipt of telegraphic advices from Hongkong, stating that the house in question was the headquarters of a projected rebellion in Canton, and that an expedition was leaving Hongkong on the 28th instant (to-day).

Referring to the rebellion in Kwangsi, our Canton correspondent states:—

During the last few days there has been considerable more talk about the Kwangsi rebels. The official report now is that the situation is very serious. Missionaries who travel in the province do not regard the trouble in the same light as the officials. Some of these, if not all, are of opinion that if the officers would do their duty and the soldiers could be depended on the trouble would come to an end. But with soldiers who are in sympathy with the rebels, or perhaps better call them robbers, the officers, even if desirous of suppressing the disturbances of the peace, can do very little. I hear that Col. Dogberry of Peking is in the city making careful inquiry regarding the state of affairs in Kwangsi. It is said that part of his mission to Canton is to ascertain the true condition of the rebellion. He is looking the matter up carefully, but reports are so varied and so contradictory that it seems impossible to arrive at the truth.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS.

BERLIN, 26th Jan., 1903, 1.20 p.m.

The discussions with Mr. Bowen, the United States Minister, have so far been very successful and if the guarantees offered are considered satisfactory, the blockade will soon cease. The Maracibo incident has not had any influence on the conferences and the hostile remarks on a part of the press have not made any impressions.

The German Crown Prince.

The Crown Prince of Germany has left Russia and the whole press is warmly commenting on his visit.

The President of the Reichstag.

The re-election of Count Balles-trem as President of the Reichstag is almost certain, and he will most likely accept the post again. The Chancellor, Count von Bülow, has not interfered at all in this matter.

Honours for Prominent German Officials.

BERLIN, 27th Jan., 7.15 p.m.

Admiral Tirpitz, Admiral Bende-mann and Büchse have received Orders; the ambassador at Peking, Dr. Münnich von Schwarzenstein, has been made Baronet, and Herr von Koeller, Secretary of State for Alsace and Lorraine has received the order of the Black Eagle.

An honour for the "Itis"

FOR TAKU SERVICE.

To commemorate and honour the behaviour of the officers and the crew of the Itis at Taku the Emperor has issued a Cabinet order that the gunboat is to carry the Cross of the Order pour le mérite above her flagstaff.

The Venezuelan Affair.

LONDON, January 26th.

Mr. Bowen has announced that he has good reason for believing the Venezuelan dispute will soon be satisfactorily settled.

The Transvaal.

Ex-Commandant De la Rey addressing a crowd in Dutch at Ventersdorp said that Mr. Chamberlain was the man to set things right; and urged the Boers to be loyal to the new Government.

Eleven prominent Boer irreconcilables who had sworn never to take the hand of a National Scout, have resolved, after hearing Mr. Chamberlain's speech at Potchefstroom, to bury animosities and co-operate with the British.

The Plague in Durban.

Owing to the spread of the plague in Durban the native servants and labourers are leaving the town in thousands.

The Venezuela Trouble.

The allies have handed Mr. Bowen declarations promising to cease the blockade as soon as an agreement is concluded with Mr. Bowen, as Plenipotentiary of Venezuela, embodying their conditions. Venezuela offers part of the Customs of La Guaira and Puerto-Cabello as security.

LAMMERT'S EXHIBITION OF SILK EMBROIDERIES AND FINE ART CURIOS.

It would be difficult to exaggerate the interest and pleasure afforded by a visit to Mr. George Lammer's sales rooms, in Duddell Street, where an exhibition and sale of silk embroideries and fine art curios will be held on Saturday and Monday next. There one has an opportunity of witnessing, in the realistic embroideries and tapestries to be offered for sale, a revival of Japanese tradition, history and poet lore of that wonderful island empire, and need we add, many costly arms of beauty never before seen in the Colony. We believe a large number of the treasures on view are from the palaces of the Mikado, from Buddhist temples, and coffers of the nobility, while others are duplicates of particular sacred patterns woven by order of his Majesty in the imperial household in, and carefully preserved by famous old silk-weaving families. One will realize that to see some of the very choicest and rarest examples of Japanese art, one must not be content with

ASK FOR ASAHI JAPANESE BEER—A. G. GRANT.

An inspection of the articles exhibited, as the best curios shops, but must visit the houses of no less, and see the treasures of the couples. It is from such sources as these that Mr. Tom ye, of Kyoto, who personally collected the embroideries and art curios, to be offered for sale by Mr. Lammer, have been obtained. Whoever will pay the necessary price for really good things, chosen by the experience and judgment acquired during many years, will find them in this collection, which, we are given to understand, is the finest ever brought to the Colony. It includes a piece of embroidery valued at a thousand taels, representing a peacock on a gold ground, a four-fold screen of silk embroidered with views of Nikko, and an ivory miniature exquisitely carved. In striking contrast to the superb needlework of ancient times are samples of the modern art of Japan, designated the Yuzen-birds, or cut-velvet art, so woven and cut as to represent a painted work. In course of weaving the fabric, the slender metallic wires, running parallel with the wool become covered with the threads. The required patterns and designs are dyed into the fabric thus produced by the Yuzen process the colours obtained being quite durable. When the dyeing is finished, each thread covering the wires woven into the texture is carefully cut over the picture produced, while the ground of the fabric is left plain without the cutting. The wires are then extracted and the work is completed. Sacred birds, lions, dragons, and various mythical monsters have been worked by this process and charmingly realistic views are also depicted. But there are other exhibits to be seen and inspected, a partial list of which appears in another column. One's first impression on entering the exhibition is a startling sense of too much loveliness but our readers should inspect the work for themselves as no exhibition of such a character has ever been given before in Hongkong. It is an opportunity which should not be overlooked.

THE CHINA MUTUAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY.

In the High Court of Justice, Chancery Division, the case of Dowdell and others v. "Itis" and others came before Mr. Justice Swinfen Eady on 26th ult.

Mr. Eady, K.C., recalled the fact that a summons was taken out by the directors of the China Mutual Steam Navigation Company (Limited), asking for the directions of the Court as to the distribution of a bonus of £25,000, which Mr. Holt, of Liverpool, had offered as compensation to employees and for contingencies over and above the offer he had made to the shareholders for their shares. The summons stood over pending the holding of a general meeting of the company. The meeting had been held, and according to the allegations of the plaintiffs, which were not believed, acceded to by the respondents, the meeting passed a resolution authorising the directors to distribute the whole £25,000 as the directors proposed. That involved £11,280 to the employees of the company, and £13,720 among the directors. The real contest was as to the distribution of the £10,000 among the directors. As to the £11,280 for the employees, he understood all parties were desirous that that portion of the fund should be distributed in the way proposed by the directors, and supported the present application, which was that £11,280 might be distributed among the employees, the rest of the sum being standing over as regards the contested £10,000.

Mr. Macnaghten, K.C., for Mr. Nelson, one of the shareholders who had sold his shares, said he was a respondent to the summons, and his position had always been that this cash in the hands of the directors belonged, not to the company, but those shareholders who had sold their shares. So far as the employees are concerned, he had no objection to their being paid. With regard to the meeting, he said that had nothing to do with the fund; but if it had, then he said the meeting was altogether irregularly held. First a gentleman took the chair who had no right there. Then there was voting by proxy, which he alleged was not properly done, because the chairman got up and said proxies which he had in his pocket carried the votes.

His Lordship: Did you raise any objection to the £11,280 being paid?

Mr. Macnaghten replied that he saw no objection, subject to this: His Lordship would remember that on the last occasion a number of his learned friends came and claimed to represent independent employees, who wanted more than it was proposed to give them. He said this distribution must be final, and the rest of the fund ought not to be subject to any further claim.

His Lordship said he had no jurisdiction to impose any conditions. With regard to what anybody else might claim, there would be considerable difficulty in dealing with it on the summons. Whoever claimed more must bring an action. He could not impose the condition that the employees should take the £11,280 in full discharge.

Mr. Frank Evans said he appeared for Mr. Holt, who paid the £25,000 and he desired to wash his hands of the matter. He had no objection to the £11,280 being paid to the employees, so long as no further claim was made on him.

Mr. Eady suggested that the directors should pay those employees only who were willing to give a receipt in full discharge of their claims against this fund.

His Lordship said that was a very reasonable way of dealing with the matter. The order would be that those who accepted in full discharge would be paid. Anyone else who alleged a larger claim was to be left to take such proceedings as he thought fit to establish his claim.

Order accordingly, the rest of the summons standing over.

TIENTSIN DAY BY DAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

TIENTSIN, January 14th.

Just as I expected, Yuan Shi-Kai has already been in the Generals about withdrawing the troops from Tientsin, now that Shanghai is evacuated. There is not the slightest analogy between the two places but that matters not in the least to the Chinese. The fact of the Shanghai evacuation can be read as an act of confidence in the ability and good faith of the Chinese Government, and if such, then the retention of troops anywhere is obviously unnecessary. The Viceroy has given the generals profuse assurances that the lives and interests of the foreign community shall be fully protected, and with all his troops here it is obviously unnecessary that the respective governments should go to so much expense in maintaining garrisons when he is able and willing to do everything free of charge. The worst of it is the extreme likelihood of home governments falling into the trap. Few as our men here are, there is the probability of their being required for more pressing service elsewhere. It is also possible that so long as Yuan Shi Kai is here nothing sinister might happen. But so soon as the troops are withdrawn from here we should probably find Yuan shifted elsewhere. Personally I have but little confidence in Yuan. Many Chinese frankly call him the henchman and tool of Jung Lu and say "beware." From all sources one seems to get warning whispers of sinister intentions, and it seems more and more open to suspicion that the Government are playing a double game. If the home authorities consent to withdraw the troops, matters will develop very quickly before Europe has time to be stirred up to fresh interest in the prospect of another massacre.

Everywhere the "ten family" movement is going strong, and instead of being, as originally designed, a means of preserving public order, and for mutual protection there seems to be some underlying purpose in the rest with which the system is being revived. In the city here the fire brigades are being re-started. In 1901 the firemen were among the most prominent Boxers, and hence the actual trouble they used to share their little hand drums and call the people together and help to excite them to action. Some Chinese consider there is some significance in the reorganization. It is now proposed to organize a native volunteer corp in the city, though with the place teeming with soldiers there does not appear to be much use.

The city wall around Pao-tsin-fu is being rebuilt. It is to be 32 feet high and 22 wide, with a moat beyond it. The city which is divided into four sections is to have strong barricades in each. This would suggest that a time is anticipated when some action may take place at the provincial capital. The Viceroy goes on adding to his staff of foreign speaking Chinese, and seems bent on having the best men he can get around him, though many of them have absolutely nothing to do. The foreign staff is entirely for show and no one can discover that they fulfil any purpose but that of a blind.

Small-pox is breaking out as usual, and our Consul-General is one of the first foreign victims. In Peking the disease is pretty bad but not here at present. If this dry snowless matter goes on, however, it doubtless will be. Everyone is rushing to get vaccinated in consequence and our two doctors are busy. I say the by I wonder if it is generally realized that large and growing as the Tientsin community is we have only two British doctors. Of course, the position is ridiculous, especially as those two belong to the same firm and virtually represent a monopoly. The result is naturally that many people complain, and there is no remedy because there is no competition. One of the two is leaving here in the spring and his place will be taken, I hear, by a Hongkong medical man, but that will not break up the disadvantage of one firm. Matters were much the same in Shanghai some ten years ago until a little wholesome competition stepped in. Doctors are only human and apt to grow a little casual when they have things too much their own way. There is a good opening here for an able man to strike out by himself though it might take him a little time to get known.

THE SIBERIAN RAILWAY.

The capabilities of this great thoroughfare as the world's carrier east and west can, however, under present conditions at least, but rough and indefinite estimates. It is safe to say that the line is not at present, and may not be for years yet, in a position to cope with anything like the possibilities and requirements that the future may reveal or exact. Russo-Siberian traffic alone, pending the population and development of the country, can influence but little the scale of cost and gain. To what extent the railway will realise expectations in international traffic the near future should assist in forming an estimate. Trade circles are still feeling their way, and rival routes striving to maintain their former supremacy. Cheap and cumbersome commodities can hardly bear the charge of so prolonged a land journey. The sea will probably hold its own in the carriage of all but valuable cargoes, perishable articles and goods deliverable by fixed date. But hopes, too, are placed on passenger and mail traffic to meet which, in anything like the proportions expected, the entire accommodation and arrangements would have to be considerably extended.

Should expectations be realised, as in time they may easily be, this single track will have to bear the immigration movement, the internal circulation of Siberia itself, the possibilities called forth by the opening out of the dormant resources of the country, and the international through-traffic in passengers, mails, and goods, not to mention the claims of official and military necessities. This is in addition to its present goods traffic to and from Russia. New feeding lines too, such as the St. Petersburg-Vologda-Vlajk-Railway now building, must in time pour an additional burden on to the carriage capacity of the main route. With, on the one side, the resources and enterprise of Europe, and on the other the teeming populations of the East, and midway an undeveloped expanse surpassing in extent the whole superficies of Europe, but which can be traversed in 10 or 12 days, it would be difficult to over-estimate the future that lies before this masterful undertaking. That future may be somewhat distant yet, as at present the railway is ahead of the country it serves, which needs first peopling and then developing.

International Mails.—No train accommodation is yet provided for the international mail transit traffic the new route is expected to attract. From detailed calculations, worked out to moderate and minimum figures from postal data of the countries likely to avail themselves of the shorter route, the above-named authority estimates the future transit mail carriage at 1,000,000 pounds (16,121 tons) requiring two to three special carriages from each and per diem by, of course, express or mail trains. Existing international postal arrangements would need modification before any profit to the railway itself, as an intermediary only, could be derived from this mail traffic.

Grain occupies the first place in the goods traffic of the Siberian line. Now, too, with the establishment of direct communication via Riga, Siberian butter reaches the London market direct, and not under Danish marks or via Denmark only.

Tea.—The new overland route may revolutionise the conditions of the tea trade in Russia. While Russia is, undoubtedly, the largest consumer in Europe, so far as the quantity of liquid tea drunk is concerned, the amount of tea consumed, owing to the different method of mixing, is but 0.93 lb. per head per annum, whereas in the United Kingdom it is over 6 lbs. (taking the data of 1900). It is far more expensive than in United Kingdom, 41, per lb. of 14½ being the price of average tea, but owing to the weak infusion habitually prepared it is made to go much further. Russia imported altogether 3,183,866 pounds of tea (15,807,202 lbs.) in 1901, against 3,492,517 pounds (16,122,857 lbs.) in 1900. Of the above amounts, 651,765 piculs (86,902,000 lbs.) were imported from China in 1901, and 754,414 piculs (102,588,333 lbs.) in 1900, while in 1899 the import was 624,634 piculs (123,709,332 lbs.). The supply from China has, therefore, diminished by 36,207,312 lbs. since 1899, partly accounted for by the import of Ceylon teas, which, according to a report of the Russian Vice-Consul at Colombo, has risen from 3,000,000 lbs. in 1895 to 20,000,000 lbs. in 1900 and (estimated) 230,000,000 lbs. in 1901.

Chinese teas hitherto reached Russia either direct by sea, mostly in the Volunteer Fleet steamers from Hankow to Odessa, or overland via Siberia. The Siberian routes were:—

1. By water to Plectain, thence overland via Kalgan and Kiakia to Irkutsk. This, the ancient caravan route, will probably succumb to altered transport conditions.
2. By sea to Wladivostok, and thence (a) by the Ussurian Railway to Khabarovsk, thence up the Amour and Shilka to Sretensk, so to Irkutsk (b) To the station of Iman, on the Ussuri line, thence by the River Ussuri to the Amour and Shilka.
3. By sea to Nakolaiavak on the Amour, and thence by the Amour and Shilka.

The incidence of duties is hitherto played an important part in the distribution of tea within the Empire. "An increase of 1/3 per pound of the duty on tea conveyed via Siberia has just been decreed with a view to equalising the cost of delivery by sea and by land.

It seems to be expected that the Ussuri and Amour routes will now lose their tea cargoes, as indeed the main part of their traffic. The chronic detentions caused by the shallowness of the Amour were a perpetual hindrance to regularity of delivery. The rivalry between the overland and sea routes must now largely depend, of course, on freights. The railway tariffs are not yet definitely decided. According to the Press, a special tariff came in force from Aug. 31st last for the carriage of tea from the station of Marchuna to St. Petersburg, via the rail route, viz. 3.16.35 per pond for the whole distance.

It seems possible that the indirect trade in tea to Russia, via the United Kingdom, will now be considerably curtailed. The Volunteer Fleet is one of the first to feel the loss of traffic ensuing from the opening of the overland route.

The trade of the vast Amour River territory, since the construction of the line through Manchuria, is threatened with well-nigh complete extinction.

Russo-Far Eastern Trade.—Among articles of export from China and Manchuria to be developed by the railway, the chief are: tin, silk goods, woollen, carpets, beeswax, far goods; bristles, china and porcelain, raw hides and skins, etc. Manchurian grain might easily replace American in the Ussuri region, where, too, its cattle produce would be welcomed. Neither of these products would be needed in Siberia or Russia except, perhaps, in the Amour territory, already complaining of the influx of cheap Manchurian grain to the prejudice of local agriculture. The northern parts of Manchuria, unlike the southern, though fruitful and productive, are as yet thinly peopled. With no manufacturing industry, its agricultural products, competing with Siberian, can only find a market eastwards, or at most in the Trans-Baikal and in the Amour region, at the expense of the local Russian immigrant element.

The trading intercourse of Russia and her two Far Eastern neighbours, considering the extent, resources, and standing of the countries concerned, is comparatively insignificant, tea from China alone attaining any substantial dimensions.

Foreign trade in the Far East has hitherto been largely in the hands of a few big firms established in the country itself, and dealing in Russian and foreign goods and commodities of all descriptions. Their central establishments at Wladivostok, Khabarovsk, Nakolaiov-on-Amour, and Blagoveshchensk, with branches scattered over lesser towns and villages, are really general stores and agencies doing wholesale and retail business in a wide range of goods, extending from agricultural machinery to groceries. Three such firms, now old established, one Russian, one German, and the third American, have held a practical monopoly in Far Eastern trade so far as Russia's possession in that region are concerned. The closing of the free ports, the shifting of traffic routes, the practical suspension of the Amour River traffic, and the total abandonment which now looms over the lately rising trade of the whole Amour region, owing to the completion of the Manchurian Railway, have naturally affected the character and extent of their former exclusive hold of the trade of the district. The conditions, in fact, are altogether changing. The American, after 30 years of profitable business is now partially curtailing his trade operations. These firms, established before the Far East began to attract attention, with their thorough knowledge of the country, people and local conditions, reaped the benefits of the first awakening of this remote region, though now wider competition must follow the introduction of the railway and the revolution it is entailing on local trade conditions generally. Though these firms deal largely in Russian goods as well, it is not to be wondered at if American and German articles are more conspicuous than British. So, too, in the construction of the Manchurian railway, according to a recent report of the United States Commercial Agent at Wladivostok, "American locomotives, tools and supplies were used at all points."

The country in general is now brought within the range of possible trade and into connection with Russia and the world's centres of production and demand. Its unwieldy size, however, its sparse and almost purely peasant population, its want of sea communication, apart from the Far East, and its still backward condition, more particularly so away from the districts covered by the main line, cannot but retard the development of its many latent sources of pastoral wealth. It would be premature to expect any very sudden or wide awakening commercial or industrial enterprise, so far as to affect foreign trade openings at least, in a country whose area exceeds that of the whole of Europe, but whose population is that of the British Isles of two centuries ago. Its main waterways excepting in the Far East, magnificent as they are, flow but to the inaccessible Arctic Ocean. Save within the environment of the few large towns, the conditions still preserve much of their former primitive character. The immigration movement is not that of a superior race flooding the country at once with a new spirit of enterprise, launching capital freely, and introducing modern methods and means. Something of this kind has happened, indeed, in the butter-producing regions of Western Siberia, but in general, there and elsewhere, the immigrants are of the same rugged peasant element that struggle for existence in the villages of Russia. The great railroad is ahead of the country, but for this very reason the present is the time to look round, and essay and even luxurious means of doing so are now within reach of industrial enterprise and the commercial community generally.

WEATHER FORECASTS AND STORM WARNINGS ISSUED FROM THE HONGKONG OBSERVATORY.

METEOROLOGICAL SIGNALS.

Meteorological signals are hoisted on the mast beside the Time-ball at Kowloon Point for the information of masters of vessels leaving the port. They do not imply that bad weather is expected here—

A DRUM indicates a typhoon to the Eastward of the Colony, (i.e., in the East quadrant, N.E. to S.E.)

A BALL indicates a typhoon to the Westward of the Colony, (i.e., in the West quadrant, S.W. to N.W.)

A CONE Point Upwards indicates a typhoon to the Northward of the Colony, (i.e., in the North quadrant, N.W. to N.E.)

A CONE Point Downwards indicates a typhoon to the Southward of the Colony, (i.e., in the South quadrant, S.E. to S.W.)

Red Signals indicate that the centre is believed to be more than 300 miles away from the Colony.

Black Signals indicate that the centre is believed to be less than 300 miles away from the Colony.

NIGHT SIGNALS.

Two lanterns hoisted vertically indicate bad weather in the Colony and that the wind is expected to veer.

Two lanterns hoisted horizontally indicate bad weather in the Colony and that the wind is expected to back.

The signals are repeated on the flagstaff of the Godown Company at Kowloon, and also, by day only, at the Harbour Office and on H.M.'s Receiving Ship.

LOCAL STORM WARNINGS.

The Colony itself is warned of approaching typhoons by means of the Typhoon Gun placed at the foot of the mast, which is fired whenever a strong gale of wind is expected to blow here.

NOTICE BOARDS.

Notice boards are placed at—
Joint Cable Companies' Office.
Ferry Company's Pier, Ice House Street.
Blake Pier.
Post Office.
Harbour Office.
Office of the Wharf & Godown Company, Kowloon.

WEATHER FORECASTS AND STORM WARNINGS are exhibited on the above boards daily about 11 a.m., and also at other hours, day or night, whenever necessary. Information of importance is also issued by "Express."

THE CHINA COAST METEOROLOGICAL REGISTER is exhibited at the same places daily about noon. It contains observations made at Hongkong and at a number of stations in the Far East, together with Remarks, Weather forecasts, and information regarding the existence and movements of typhoons based thereon.

THE LAW OF STORMS.

Further information concerning the weather to be expected while signals are hoisted, and sailing directions are given in "The Law of Storms in the Eastern Seas."

F. G. Figg.

Acting Director.
